Which note, after being paraphrased "Ne Varietur" by me, Notary, for identification herewith has been delivered unto the said vendor here present, who acknowledges due receipt thereof.

And now, in order to secure the full and punctual payment of the said note at maturity, together with all interest, costs, attorney's fee and premiums of insurances as well as taxes, paving and all other local improvement assessments, special mortgage and vendor's lien and privilege are hereby retained, and granted in favor of said vendor and of any future holder of said note on the property herein conveyed, which the said purchaser binds himself not to sell, alienate or in any wise encumber to the prejudice of this act, which said premises are to remain so mortgaged and hypothecated until the full and final payment of the aforesaid promissory note and interest, as well as all taxes, insurance premiums, attorney's fees and costs, paving and local improvement assessments.

The said purchaser does hereby confess judgment in favor of said vendor and any future holder of said promissory note for the full amount thereof, as hereinabove stipulated.

And the said purchaser declared that he does hereby specially covenant and agree to the faithful fulfillment of the following stipulations in favor of the vendor and any future holder of the note secured by this instrument, to-wit:

FIRST: To pay the sums of principal and interest as above specified.

SECOND: To keep the buildings and improvements on the property hereby mortgaged and hypothecated constantly insured against loss by fire, tornado and explosion, and against loss in such other forms of insurance as may be required by the vendor or by the holder of the said note in amounts satisfactory to the vendor or to the holder of said note until the full and final payment, of the said note, in companies acceptable to the vendor or to the holder of the said note, and to transfer the said insurance and all policies of insurance of whatever nature and of whatever amount taken out on said buildings and improvements to the vendor or to the holder of the said note in such appropriate form as will make the said insurance payable to the vendor or to the holder of the said note as its or their interest may appear, and to deliver all of the said policies to the vendor or to the holder of the said note and to pay, before the same shall become delinquent, all taxes, paving, improvement and assessments, local or otherwise, which may be levied on said herein conveyed property, and all taxes, assessments or charges which may be levied on the note secured hereby, or the interest thereon, and to present the vendor within ten days after demand, receipts evidencing the payment of such taxes, assessments or charges.

And in case of failure on the part of the purchaser so to pay such taxes or assessments, or so to insure and so to deliver such policies, then the said vendor or any future holder of said note may effect such insurance and pay the premiums thereon and may pay such taxes or assessments and the amounts so paid shall be immediately due and payable by the purchaser with interest at the rate of eight per centum (8%) per annum until paid, and such amounts, with interest as aforesaid, shall to the extent hereinafter stipulated, be deemed a part of the debt secured by this act, the tax receipt and the receipt of the insurance company showing such payment being hereby declared to be such authentic evidence of said payment as is necessary for executory process; or said holder may, if he sees fit, pay said taxes, and be ipso facto subrogated to the rights of the State, the Parish and all political or governmental sub-divisions; the vendor or holder of said note is authorized in the event of a sale of the property for non-payment of taxes, to redeem the same, which redemption shall be made in the name of the purchaser to the same extent as if done by said purchaser and for the sole benefit and interest of the said vendor or any future holder or holders of said note regardless of whether such redemption is effected before or after the period allowed by law for redeeming from tax sales; provided, however, that none of the above provisions shall be construed as obligatory upon the vendor or the holder of said note or as making them liable for loss, damage or injury which may result from the non-insurance of the said buildings and improvements, the non-payment of said taxes or other failure; and provided further that in case any money is collected by the vendor or any future holder of said note on account of loss under such insurance policies such money may, at the option of the said vendor or the holder of the said note, be either paid to the insured or applied upon the items of indebtedness secured hereunder, whether such items be due or not, in such order as the vendor or the holder of the note may direct. The said holder is hereby given the privilege and authority to make proof of loss and adjust and collect insurance and to assign the insurance policies to the purchaser at foreclosure sale and the said holder shall be entitled to any unearned premiums on insurance to apply on the indebtedness secured by this act.

THIRD: To keep all fences, buildings and other improvements now on the said premises or hereinafter put thereon, in good condition and repair and to permit no waste on said property, and generally to do no act by which the value of the said premises may be impaired. Failure to keep all fences, buildings and other improvements in proper repair shall constitute default hereunder, and the said vendor herein, or any future holder of said note, is authorized to put said fences, buildings and other improvements in repair, and all sums expended for such purpose shall be immediately due and payable together with eight per cent (8%) interest, and shall be secured by the mortgage and vendor's lien herein granted to the extent hereinafter stipulated, but nothing herein contained shall be construed as making the said repairs obligatory upon the vendor or any holder of said note. The vendor or future holder of said note is hereby authorized to enter upon the premises for the purpose of inspecting and of making the repairs herein referred to.

FOURTH: Failure by the purchaser to promptly pay any one of the installments of principal or interest of the said note, or in case of default on the part of the purchaser in the performance of any one of the above covenants and agreements, or in case any tax or assessment of the United States is levied against the interest of the purchaser, or in case the purchaser should become insolvent, or apply to the bankruptcy court to be adjudicated a voluntary bankrupt, or proceedings be instituted against said purchaser, to put him in involuntary bankruptcy, or should any proceedings be taken against said purchaser looking to the appointment of a receiver or syndic, or should the property herein mortgaged be seized under any writ or process of court, or by any trustee acting under any mortgage, then and in either or in any such event the whole indebtedness hereby secured shall, at the option of the vendor or any future holder of the said note, at once mature and become due and exigible, anything herein contained to the contrary notwithstanding, and it shall be lawful for and the purchaser does hereby authorize the vendor or the then holder of said note (without the necessity of a transfer of said note by authentic evidence, such authentic evidence being expressly waived) and without making a demand or a putting in default, a putting in default being hereby expressly waived, to cause all and singular the property herein described to be seized and sold under executory or other legal process issued by any competent court, or, in the event that the holder of said note should not desire to resort to executory process, the said purchaser does consent, agree and stipulate that the holder of said note may file suit in any court of competent jurisdiction and obtain judgment immediately by virtue of the confession of judgment herein contained, said purchaser waiving allotment, citation and all legal tactics and delays, and consenting that said judgment may be rendered, signed and executed immediately, either in vacation or in term time; the said purchaser waiving the benefit of any and all laws or parts of laws relative to the appraisement of property seized and sold under executory or other legal process and consenting that said property be sold without appraisement to the highest bidder for cash, or on such terms as the plaintiff in such proceedings may direct, and in the event of any such sale the property may be sold at the option of the vendor or the holder of the said note either as a whole or in such lots and parcels as the said vendor or the said holder of the said note may elect.

The maximum amount for which this act of vendor's lien and mortgage shall be deemed to secure the obligations of the purchaser as herein stipulated, to reimburse the vendor or any holder of said note, the amounts paid for premium insurance, taxes, assessments and repairs as aforesaid, is hereby fixed at fifty per centum of the face value of said note.

As further security for the payment of all sums due hereunder, the said purchaser does by these presents specifically pledge unto the vendor or any future holder of said note, all of the rents and revenues which are or may be derived from the hereinabove described property, and the said purchaser does hereby specially grant unto the vendor or any future holder of the said note the right to seize the rents and revenues of the above described property immediately on default of any of the obligations herein contained, it being agreed that the right to seize the rents herein given may be exercised either in connection with and as part of proceedings via executiva, or ordinaria, or in some other appropriate proceedings at the option of the holder of the said note.

Further expressly stipulated and agreed by the purchaser that any covenants or agreements in instrument contained which might otherwise affect the character of the note secured hereby as a negotiable instrument, to the contrary notwithstanding, the said note shall, as regards the said purchaser and in the hands of the vendor and any future holder of the said note, be deemed a negotiable instrument within the meaning and intendment of the laws of the State of Louisiana, with all of the qualities and characteristics thereof as stipulated in the said laws.

Any extensions granted or allowed for the payment of said note or any installment thereof, or for the performance of any other obligations assumed herein by the purchaser, shall not be construed as a waiver of any of the rights of the vendor or any holder of said note.

The said purchaser waives the benefit of all laws now passed, or which may hereafter be enacted, relative to the foreclosure of mortgages, covenanting and agreeing that he will not, by injunction, rule or any proceedings whatever, hinder or delay the foreclosure of this property in accordance with law, whether it be instituted by hypothecary action or via ordinaria, the said agreement herein made being of prime consideration to the lending of the money; as hereinabove set forth.

The said purchaser further declares that in favor of the vendor and any future holder of the note secured hereby and as regards the property hereby mortgaged, he waives any and all homestead exemptions to which he may be entitled under the Constitution and laws of the State of Louisiana.

The purchaser binds himself to pay the fees of any attorney at law who may be employed to recover the amount due, or any part thereof, in principal or interest, or to protect the interest of the holder hereof, or to compromise or to take other action with regard hereto which fees are hereby fixed at fifteen per centum (15%) on the amount then owing thereon, and sought to be collected, protected or preserved.
